

Alejandro Corujeira
The Subtle Sound of Intuition

November 10th, 2022 – January 27th, 2023

For his second solo exhibition in New York, and his first at Hutchinson Modern & Contemporary, Alejandro Corujeira is presenting a series of recent paintings that continue his explorations of overlapping and intersecting abstract forms to create uniquely poetic compositions.

Born in Argentina in 1961, Corujeira studied at the School of Fine Arts in Buenos Aires and began his artistic career exhibiting in Buenos Aires, Mexico City, and Miami, before moving to Madrid in 1991, where he lives and works to this day. Corujeira came to art through his interest in spirituality and ancient knowledge systems from indigenous cultures. During and after his years of study, he would travel to the Andean region of Northwest Argentina to spend time in remote villages where he would immerse himself in artisanal and spiritual practices while also painting, writing, and meditating. These experiences would mark his entire career and approach to art.

Corujeira's work creates a delicate balance between concealing and revealing. Thin, successive layers of paint both illuminate and blur organic and geometric forms. This slow process, the time invested in making each piece, asks for a similar slowness and patience from the viewer. In the artist's words: "for me, painting is a meditative act, of making a gesture on a canvas and then stepping back." In this exhibition, all fourteen of the works are composed of a series of circular forms that create visual tension and relationships across the canvas. His particular sense of color and rhythm give each work a musical tonality and a subtle atmosphere of both stillness and motion.

Hutchinson Modern & Contemporary is an Upper East Side gallery founded by Isabella Hutchinson, which specializes in modern and contemporary art of the Americas, with a focus on Latin American, U.S. Latinx, and Caribbean art. Through our exhibitions, we aim to augment the visibility of work by artists from these groups and foster critical engagement. Our hours are Monday through Friday, 11am - 5pm or by appointment.

For further information please contact info@hutchinsonmodern.com.